

Terms of Use

(Last Updated: November 2025)

These Terms of Use govern your access to and use of the website ("Site") operated by Sprott Law Firm PLLC, a Texas professional limited liability company ("the Firm"). By accessing or using this Site, you confirm your acceptance of these Terms. If you do not agree with any portion, do not use the Site.

Legal Information and Disclaimers

- The content provided herein does not create an attorney-client relationship and is for informational purposes only.
- The Firm endeavors to ensure all information on this website is accurate and up to date, but does not guarantee its completeness or reliability.

User Responsibilities

- You agree to use this Site only for lawful purposes, in accordance with all applicable laws and regulations.
- You agree you will not submit or transmit data that is false, misleading, infringing, or in violation of any law, or that you will use the information contained in this Site in a false, misleading, or fraudulent manner against a third party.

Intellectual Property

- All website content, including but not limited to text, graphics, and logos, is owned by or licensed to the Firm and protected under applicable intellectual property laws.
- You may not reproduce, distribute, or use any content without express authorization.

Privacy and Data Protection

- User data is collected and managed as described in the Privacy Policy. The Firm uses industry-standard measures to secure user information.
- The Firm complies with all applicable Texas and federal privacy regulations.

Compliance with A2P and 10DLC Standards

The Firm uses application-to-person (A2P) SMS and MMS messaging for client communications:

- All SMS/MMS communications from the Firm are only sent to recipients who have expressly opted in.
- Users may opt out of receiving SMS or MMS messages from the Firm at any time by following instructions in each message.
- Message and data rates may apply, per carrier requirements.
- The Firm takes steps to protect the security and privacy of recipient data through appropriate technological and organizational safeguards.

- The Firm does not engage in SMS marketing; text messages are limited to transactional, appointment-related, or legally required communications.

No Guarantee of Delivery or Access

The Firm is not liable for delivery failures, communication delays, or unauthorized access due to events outside its control, including but not limited to carrier rules, third-party system interruptions, or malicious acts.

Changes to Terms

These Terms of Use may be updated periodically. Continued use of the website after changes signifies acceptance of the revised terms.

Governing Law

These Terms are governed by the laws of the State of Texas, without regard to conflict of laws principles.
